I support the bill to keep early release away from violent criminals , Im not sure about giving the warden the power to decide who is fit for release. but im for senate bill 1129.

for too long Connecticut has wasted valuable time and opportunity housing violent criminals with simple drug and alcohol crimes, worried about a secure environment, you have these addicts locked up for these short bids of 6 months to 18 months, they should be in intense rehab while the state has their undivided attention for that time they are serving. they should be in AA meetings all day ,they arent a threat, separate them and keep the violent criminals could be locked up all day.
